Literacy at Caister Academy: A Whole-School Approach

Vision – a school of Literature and Performing Arts

- Every student can read fluently across the curriculum, using the language of powerful knowledge to enable them to do more by knowing more.
- Their spoken and written language accurately reflects the knowledge that they have acquired so that they can communicate their thoughts and ideas effectively.
- Students choose to self-acquire new knowledge through both traditional and digital texts, reading around the subject matter they encounter across the curriculum.

Reading at Caister Academy

Our determination to close the ever-emerging reading gap is at the forefront of form time and lesson planning here at Caister Academy. Within KS3 form time, our students are immersed into our guided reading programme; a programme designed to engage students in a range of literature and to model to them the fluency of reading, pronunciation, and intonation, as well as recalling, defining, and clarifying key vocabulary.

Our whole school Reading for Meaning strategy also promotes a whole academy approach to reading: tracking the text with a ruler, summarising key information, and clarifying for understanding.

Interventions

- Read, Write, Inc phonics programme for those who require it upon entry in year 7
- Lexia for our year 7 and 8 students
- A bridging curriculum within English once students have graduated from the phonics programme
- Literacy lessons within our timetabled KS3 library lessons for English
- Catapult programme for years 9, 10 and 11
- Handwriting intervention for those who require it

Learning Through a Literacy Lens

- Our curriculum is designed to plan for, and implement our Caister Academy literacy strategies for reading, writing and oracy. Curriculum leaders plan each unit of work with these strategies in mind, which subsequently filters down to lesson planning and delivery for all our teachers and subject assistants.
- As an academy we promote the use of subject specialist language across all subjects and within all lessons. Vocabulary lists for each subject are printed within student exercise books and are also published on our website.
- All subject assistants have been phonics trained to assist those students who require further support and intervention across all subject areas.

Literacy in Creative Arts

Reading:

- Academy Reading for Meaning strategy for printed texts
- The use of questioning to verbally clarify understanding
- Students verbally summarise what they have read
- Teachers and students clarify and define specialist language to decode questions.
- Teachers develop reading skills through additional homework opportunities. Such as, relevant subject high-quality texts and articles.

Writing:

- Knowledge organisers are used in KS3 to promote recall and retention from lesson to lesson, linked to the requirements of the National Curriculum
- Within KS4, voice over PowerPoints and podcasts provide verbal instructions for students' written work
- Checklists for success are used to outline expectations for student work
- Teachers live model every part of the writing cycle over various lessons. This includes identifying common misconceptions and referring to key specialist language
- Students are encouraged to proofread their work on our digital platforms to correct spelling, punctuation, and grammar, using their knowledge to ensure accuracy of proof-reading tools.
- Teachers deep mark summative assessments in line with the whole school literacy policy.

Oracy:

- Students are challenged to questions using full sentences ("Say it again but say it better")
- Specialist language is recalled verbally (choral calling of technical terms)
- Teachers model for and guide students on the correct use of spoken language
- Teachers build in opportunities for students to discuss ideas within lessons. Allowing them to work with different students so that they are exposed to a range of ideas
- Teachers give students a chance to challenge each other verbally, developing their reasoning.
